The Harmony range of multifuel stoves represents a giant leap forward in combustion technology. With the minimum of supervision, they burn more efficiently making them as environmentally friendly as possible. This stove comes as standard with a Black Handle, optional Nickel and Brass Handles are available for an increased price.

This is the result of working to achieve the most attractive and natural flame patterns possible, from the most natural of fuels available. The traditionally styled Harmony range of stoves offers style and grace in abundance. These looks, combined with the very latest in combustion technology, result in one of the finest stoves ever made.

The Harmony 43 Ecodesign is suitable to burn both seasoned wood and smokeless coal. With a heat output of 10.5kW, the Harmony 43 will heat a large room even on the coldest days.
