The Malvern Electric stove features contemporary styling and is the most compact stove in the electric range from ACR; available with an optional decorative flue and even a log box option to get you the right proportions for your room.

The incredibly realistic flame projection has 4 flame settings – high flame, medium flame, low flame and glowing embers. Our flame projection technology creates flames in the front, middle and back of the firebed which with the addition of being able to alter the flame effect colours, gives greater ambience and realism. The crystal embers and ceramic logs provide a natural, realistic look to the stove.

The stove can be controlled from the unit itself or from the 7 day programmable intelligent remote which is supplied as standard. The stove can be programmed to come on automatically at different times of the day and the week and can be thermostatically controlled. It can also be operated via the ACR Stoves app from where the choice of flame effect colours is also limitless.

Constructed of high quality, lightweight steel and finished in durable black powder-coat finish, the Malvern Electric offers a choice of 1 and 2Kw heat output along with a no heat setting where you can just appreciate the relaxing flame effect – ideal for warmer evenings when just the atmosphere is flickering flames would be welcome but when heat isn't required.
