With the redevelopment of the Shoreditch range, this is the newer MK3 model, featuring an incredible 4.0 - 9.5kW heat output range, and impressive efficiency of over 83%! This removes the need to choose between two different stoves as with the previous MK2 series, now, you effectively get both stoves in one!

What's more, the smoke emissions are low - at just 1.7g/hr you can be confident of a clean burn; and of course in that regard the stove has passed both EcoDesign and DEFRA requirements with flying colours - so it can be safely and lawfully used in smoke control zones across the UK.

All in all this is a fantastic choice for a wide range of homes, with much of this down to not just the wide variable heat output, but also due to its perfect image - crisp, clean lines you'd expect from a modern wood burning stove, with just enough traditional design elements to make this a real piece of beauty in your home.
